EASTER SUNDAY

Observed Generally With Elaborate Services in the Churches.

THE MUSIC WAS A FEATURE.

Appropriate Discourses on the Resurrection From the Pulpits in the Morning, the Special Music Programmes Being Rendered Mostly in the Evening—Large Congregations Out—Rev. Mr. Oliphant's Sermon.

Easter Sunday was celebrated by all the churches with elaborate services, consisting for the most part of special music features, and nearly every pulpit had some floral decoration. Flowers were used profusely at St. Matthew's P. E. church and the Cathedral, Easter lilies being prominent, and bits of greenery were also lavishly displayed. The propitious weather brought out large congregations, and incidentally the debut of the new spring bonnet, of which there were not a few, so the services were notable from different points of view. The special programmes of music were rendered chiefly in the evening, and at the morning services, the church pastors discussed the appropriate theme of the resurrection.

At Fourth Street M. E. church last evening, the service was almost entirely of a musical character, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Sooy, delivering an Easter sermon in the morning. The choir of this church upheld its reputation in its singing of several beautiful selections. Another noteworthy musical service was rendered at the Vance Memorial church, at Altheim, and in all the churches, in fact, the Easter song service was of more than ordinary merit.

The story of the Resurrection was ably discussed on from several pulpits, and "The Pre-eminence of Christ" was a topic spoken on last evening by Rev. C. M. Oliphant, at the First Christian church. Christ's pre-eminence was seen in creation, said Mr. Oliphant, as Christ was with God "in the beginning," and Christ was pre-eminent in the work of redemption. As God he came to earth in the likeness of a man, a servant, and he was manifest as God. His Gospel was intended for all classes: He, a Prince, on earth became a peasant; an Emperor. He became a servant. His humiliation was necessary for the exaltation afterward, argued Mr. Oliphant. Not until the world saw God in the form of a man, associating with men, sharing their troubles and their joys, did the world comprehend, and then only in part, that God was here in the person of his only begotten Son, Jesus Christ.

Christ lived a beautiful complete life, illustrating His beautiful spirit in all conditions, and only a small part of it was represented, said the speaker, "for you can't paint an opal or a diamond and reflect its brilliancy." It was the greatest life ever lived; great in death, as well as in life. Briefly and vividly Mr. Oliphant described the scenes surrounding the crucifixion and the resurrection of the Savior and later His ascension into heaven. The speaker said the gospel of Christ was a wonderful thing, and to it in the present age one-third of the human race turns for comfort. Its believers were increasing in number with sure growth. Never in the world was there such progress as to-day, and the world would continue to progress in proportion to the influence of Jesus Christ.

AT THE GERMAN M. E. CHURCH

Interesting Easter Services Were Conducted Yesterday.

The Easter services at the German Methodist Episcopal church began with a sunrise prayer meeting at 6 a. m., led by Miss Anna Belle Daum and Mr. Wesley Schultz. Beginning at 9:15 a. m. until 10:30, the Sunday school carried out a very elaborate Easter missionary programme under the direction of Mr. Ernest Metzner, who had spared no pains to make the same a success. The central idea of the exercises was expressed by a frame work erected on the platform, consisting of two uprights and a cross-piece connecting the same. On one of these pillars was inscribed, "Prophecies"; on the other, "Fulfilled," and on the cross-beam, "Eternal Life is Ours." Around this structure class after class recited and glorious Easter singing was heard. There was a very large attendance, also, of the older people. The semi-annual missionary collection of this school amounted on this occasion to $70.

At 10:30 the pastor preached to a full house on, "Life's Burdens Viewed in the Light of the Resurrection of Christ."

In the afternoon the funeral of Ernest Jansen, son of Mr. Gerhardt Jansen, took place from the church. This young man, a member of this congregation, was in his eighteenth year, of good solid character and will be greatly missed by the family and his friends. This sad occurrence tinged somewhat all the exercises of the day with sadness.

At 7 p. m. the Epworth League met. David Spring president. Mr. William Schulz had prepared a fine musical programme for the occasion, which was rendered in fine style by sixteen selected voices, the Messrs. Newton Smith and William Nickerson assisting in instrumental music.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock, the congregation enjoyed its annual Easter service of sacred song and music. This is a very noteworthy occasion in this church. The devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. August Wincher; the musical part was under the supervision of Mr. Albert Metzner. The choir recently reconstructed has the following membership at present: Ladies, Misses Bessie Voelker, Hulda Schulz, Kate Melnhart, Ozoora Frankhauser, Carrie Traibor, Bessie Merschrod, Amelia Melnhart, Kate Stromberg and Julia Beck; gentlemen, William and August Schulz, George Merschrod, E. R. Metzner, William Beck, Max Berger, Edmund Berger, David Springer and William Voelker. The choir sang in all, six numbers, one in the morning and five in the evening. Among these were two of the most difficult pieces in choir music rendered with a skill, precision and accuracy in interpreting the spirit of the congregation and meaning of the author, which greatly delighted the large audience present.

At Simpson M. E. Church.

Easter services were given yesterday at Simpson M. E. church, which was suitably decorated for the occasion. The first service of the day was a prayer meeting, conducted by the Epworth League at 6:30 a. m.

Rev. J. W. Waters has been returned by conference to serve the church the fifth year, the limit allowed by the church. This was greatly due to a personal effort of Dr. J. L. Sooy by the request of several of the official members of the church. Dr. Sooy mentioned the matter to Mr. H. K. List, who donated a check for $200, to be paid on the debt of the church. Rev. Waters presented the check yesterday in public to the trustee. The choir and congregation sang "Praise God From Whom all Blessings Flow," as a token of thankfulness and a blessing on the donor. The congregation appeals through its pastor to the generous public which has a home mission spirit to help lift the $4,500 debt which the congregation is carrying.

AT THE CATHEDRAL.

Impressive and Beautiful Easter Services Were Given.

Yesterday morning at 10:30 the services at the Cathedral were very impressive and beautiful. The altar was most tastefully decorated and resplendent with natural flowers and ornamented candles. The new drapery of gold lace, procured from Paris, added much to the beauty of the decorations.

The celebrant of the pontifical mass was Rt. Rev. Bishop Donahue, who was assisted by Rev. Edward Galway as archpriest; Rev. William Hall, as deacon; Rev. R. F. Harris as sub-deacon, and Rev. O. H. Moye as master of ceremonies. The sermon was preached by the Rt. Rev. Bishop, who dwelt at some length on the mystery of the resurrection.

The church was densely crowded, camp stools having been placed in each aisle; even this did not accommodate the large crowd, as the galleries were packed, as also was the vestibule of the church.

The music was the finest that has been heard in the Cathedral for many years, and much credit is due to the new organist, Mr. William Kenny and to the director, Mr. Mendel.

The very tuneful and melodious mass of Millard in B flat, was rendered, assisted by a full orchestra.

All the singers collectively and individually deserve much praise. At the close of the mass, solemn papal benediction was given by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.

This evening there will be a summary court at the armory of Company A, First regiment, National Guard, to try several members of the company for infractions of the military regulations.

Nesbitt, First Lieutenant J. L. Hunt, Second Lieutenant J. N. Parks, Major W. G. Peterkin, the latter as judge advocate. This court assembles at the order of Brigadier General Curtin.

The J. M. Hasty & Son Co.

Among the numerous displays at the Food Fair is that of J. M. Hasty & Son Company, of Marietta, Ohio, which firm is well known in this vicinity, and in fact, in nearly every hamlet in West Virginia and Eastern Ohio. This well known company occupies a booth on the right of the entrance to the hall, and is filled with samples of the essence which have made the firm a reputation in this community.

To-night, the proprietors will have an exhibition, the vanilla bean from which the flavor is made. Every woman who uses it should see it in its natural state. They sell nothing but high grade flavors, and have in all thirty-five different kinds. They sell to no one but the retail trade. This well known concern also have the agency for the Midget Soda Fountain, which produces the best grade of soda for an outlay of only 35 cents for the fountain. It will pay all readers of the Intelligencer to tarry awhile at the Hasty booth.

KRAUS BROS.

Another Step Forward In

Men's and Boys' CLOTHING.

When the well-dressed critical public becomes enthusiastic over a display of clothing, it is fair to presume that there is something more than ordinary merit about it.

When our spring styles were spread out for careful inspection they found so many excellent features in the numerous examples, they were unanimous in declaring it the grandest and most attractive collection of clothing ever exhibited in Wheeling.

While the selection of patterns is an indispensable feature to the weaver of fashionable clothing, there exists no question so important as producing garments of the proper FIT, MAKE AND STYLE, producing thereby an exclusive individuality of the highest order.

We ask no more in price for our well made suits of exceptional qualities than others ask for inferior grades that possess none of the merits of ours. No adequate idea can be formed of these garments unless by personal inspection.
